

I feel that XM radio is the best thing to happen to radio broadcasting since the FM radio revolution of the early 70's. It is so superior to anything available on the local broadcast stations here in Austin (FM and esp. AM) that I think that anything done to impede its growth would be a great disservice to the public.